Susanne Schneider, Kall

I am a singer, vocal teacher, integral life coach and a certified teacher of the movement meditation "FORM-Reality Practice" - exploring and deepening in the many aspects of human potential development on an individual and collective level for many years.

As a team leader in the "humantrust" community, I also support a growing resonance field here in Germany. I am passionate to support the unfolding of co-creation and the next steps of human evolution. I am particularly engaged in exploring the relationship between the new feminine and the new masculine. I live in Kall - northern Germany.

Diemut Kostrzewa, Springe, Lower Saxony (near Hanover)

My life is dedicated to the conscious evolution of individuals and the human species through Form Reality Practice and Co-Creation. I'm passionate about learning and using my accomplishments to empower my fellow human beings.

My personal development has a focus on authenticity and truthfulness in relations of all kinds. To put experience-based knowledge on a scientific basis, I added a university degree in adult education after ten years of professional practice as a physiotherapist. I am also qualified in communication and counseling.

Working in a care retirement home in the second half of my life with seniors who suffer from frail health and dementia, I feel strongly called to explore transformational ways of growing old and providing professional health care. I live in Springe, Germany – near Hanover.
