Jeanie DeRousseau, Ph.D., Lake Worth

grew up on a farm in Wisconsin, USA, studied physical anthropology with a bent toward technology at 21, university professor at 31, mother of Ariel at 41, Conscious Evolutionary at 51, advocate for and participant in women's evolution and online connectivity (LightPages.net, GODMotherProject.com).

When I am most at home with myself, I love All That Is... maybe especially singing, patterns and people, not necessarily in that order, and cultivating the new Culture of Presence online. My deepest desire (so far identified) is to live as a Whole Being, contributing to a positive human evolution, to our emerging global family, in whatever ways I am called.
